

Windows XP upgrade bundle

Barco's easy, secure and enhanced upgrade for all XP-based controllers

Microsoft officially withdrew its support for the Windows XP operating system on 8 April 2014, after 13 years of service. In other words: Windows XP users no longer receive technical support services or updates. With your Barco PWS videowall controllers running under Windows XP, you may have wondered: "what should I do now?". Our upgrade bundle might just be the ticket.

The bundle consists of the complete kit you need to upgrade your specific system. The datasheet contains more information of the upgrade paths we propose. In case of doubt, don't hesitate to contact your local Barco sales representative.
